Katie Milerre: (10:36 A.M.)

Mr. del Mar, I'm finalizing the catering order for next month's client-appreciation banquet. We haven't received responses from our clients at Hartford and Mason Law Firm. Should I call to confirm with them?

Alberto del Mar: (10:38 A.M.)

No, that's not necessary. I spoke with Mr. Hartford yesterday, and he told me they won't be able to make it. They'll be traveling out of state for an appointment that day.

Katie Milerre: (10:39 A.M.)

I see. Would you like me to have a gift basket sent to their office since they won't be attending?

Alberto del Mar: (10:41 A.M.)

Yes. Please also include a gift card to the restaurant where the banquet is being held and an invitation to attend lunch with me there at a later date.

Katie Milerre: (10:42 A.M.)

Certainly. I will bring the card to your office this afternoon for a signature.

- (C) She is currently viewing some photographs of gift baskets.
- (D) She knows that Mr. del Mar wants her to purchase a card.

Questions 156-157 refer to the following information.

I have spent most of my life in the woods of rural Colorado, where I have always looked to the beauty of nature for inspiration. My plates, bowls, and cutting boards are hand carved from pieces of wood that were foraged from fallen trees that I discovered while on various hikes through the forest.

Each object in my wooden kitchenware collection is one of a kind and has been carved to bring out the natural curves and grain patterns of the wood. These unique pieces can last a lifetime if stored and treated properly. They should never be left to soak in water, as prolonged exposure to water will cause them to warp. It is also a good idea to apply a light coat of mineral oil from time to time to prevent the colors from fading. For more tips on how to best protect your natural wood product from deterioration, visit www.hollyhollingsworth.com. Thank you for purchasing my products!

- Holly Hollingsworth

156. Where would the information most likely be found?

- (A) Inside a package with a product
- (B) Near a piece of art in a museum
- (C) In an article in a nature magazine

Questions 164-167 refer to the following online chat discussion.

Marguerite Ogus (9:30 A.M.)

Hi, team. How are we progressing on the free Healthy Lifestyle series for our employees?

Peter Jellis (9:31 A.M.)

As we discussed at our lunch meeting in the cafeteria in February, we're starting with nutrition.

Taewon Yoon (9:31 A.M.)

I talked to Adam Rickert, who writes the column on healthy living for our hospital newsletter.

Peter Jellis (9:32 A.M.)

So are we on target to start the series on March 1, Taewon?

Marguerite Ogus (9:33 A.M.)

Marvelous. I remember seeing his interview on television about the need for quality sleep.

Is he comfortable with presenting live in front of people?

Peter Jellis (9:34 A.M.)

Well, last month he delivered a major conference presentation.

Taewon Yoon (9:34 A.M.)

Yes. Adam Rickert committed to doing the first three sessions in the series.

Marguerite Ogus (9:35 A.M.)

Good. What about the room?

Peter Jellis (9:36 A.M.)

The atrium on the north side of the hospital has been reserved through May for the full series

Taewon Yoon (9:37 A.M.)

And we have already chosen the second topic in the series: physical fitness.

Marguerite Ogus (9:38 A.M.)

Excellent. Let's move on to picking the third speaker of the series, who will discuss the importance of social relationships in our April sessions.

164. What is suggested about the speaker series?

(A) It will include lunch.

(B) It will be held in a hospital.

(C) It will be open to the public.

(D) It will be shown on television.

166. When is Mr. Rickert scheduled to speak?

(B) Eating well

(C) Sleep habits

(D) Healthy relationships

Questions 168-171 refer to the following report.

LONG ISLAND REGIONAL ENERGY AUTHORITY

Residential Audit

Prepared for customer: Darrah Henninger

Property address: 337 Barrel Street, Hempstead, NY 11550

Reason for audit request: The customer reported unusually high energy bills and an inefficient cooling system during the warmest months.

Date of visit: August 26

Inspection summary: The building size is approximately 366 square meters, and there is an exterior air-conditioning unit on the west side of the structure. --[1]--.
The unit was installed new and is six years old.

The size of the cooling unit is more than sufficient for the building size. --[2] --.
However, the return air flows through a vent that is too small. Expanding the current vent size or creating an additional vent on an adjacent wall will correct this issue.

The building has a vaulted metal roof that is poorly insulated. Reinsulating the roof is recommended. --[3] --. The use of ceiling fans on the upper level should be avoided in the warm months. Because the roof is not insulated well, the fans use an excessive amount of energy to combat the heat transfer through the ceiling during the summer, and therefore the rooms cannot be adequately cooled.

This audit has been performed by a certified energy auditor. -- [4] --.

Audit prepared by: Kevin Anders

168. Why most likely did Ms. Henninger request the audit service?

- (A) She would like to enlarge her living space.
- (B) She needs some heating equipment repaired.
- (C) She is interested in purchasing a property.
- (D) She wants to lower her summer energy costs.

169. What is indicated about the air-conditioning unit?

- (A) It is an adequate size.
- (B) It has a satisfactory venting system.
- (C) It is a discontinued model.
- (D) It has been producing warm air.

170. What does Mr. Anders advise about the ceiling fans?

- (A) They should be replaced.
- (B) They should be reinstalled in other locations.
- (C) They should be used instead of the air-conditioning unit.
- (D) They should be turned off for part of the year.

171. In which of the positions marked [1], [2], [3], and [4] does the following sentence best belong?

"This should be a top priority."

- (A) [1]
- (B) [2]
- (C) [3]
- (D) [4]

Subject: Re: March sales report

Thank you for promptly submitting your March report. I'm pleased with the strong sales of the new whole-bean product we introduced last month. Let's keep a close eye on sales of this coffee blend through April. We may be able to add it to our regular lineup.

I like your suggestion regarding the customer loyalty program. In addition, I propose putting up a poster advertising the cards by the registers and another one in the employee lounge. Please inform me at the end of the month if these efforts have an impact.

Finally, I have good news to share. Yukihiro Asakawa began serving our Bold Macaw variety at his flagship restaurant in December, and he now wants Placid Moon to be the exclusive provider for all his restaurants. This expansion of our business is all thanks to you, since you introduced Mr. Asakawa to our coffee not long ago.

Audition for a TV Baking Show

DUNMORE, PA--Think you have what it takes to be the next baking star? Get your cake pans and pastry brushes ready because the popular baking competition show, Toni's Baking Ace, has just scheduled auditions for its fifth season!

Toni's Baking Ace has become a huge TV hit since it premiered five years ago.

The show is named for its celebrated host, pastry chef Adrianna Toni. Long before becoming a TV celebrity, she founded multinational bakery chain TKL Creations and published Dolce Dancing, a dessert cookbook that has become a classic.

If you are an amateur baker, that is, if you have never baked as part of a business, you stand a chance of appearing on Toni's Baking Ace. The first step is to complete an online application. The show's producers will select 50 promising candidates and send each an invitation for an in-person interview. Those who make it through this first round will attend an intensive two-day baking audition in front of the TV judges. From this audition, sixteen lucky finalists will be selected as participants to compete for the Baking Ace title!

Have your baked goods always impressed your family and friends? Do not hesitate to submit your application---and get baking!

Dear Ms. Lewis:

I am the program coordinator for the Cheverly Art Museum. We are so excited to have you perform with us this season. Our concerts are always well received and well attended.

Please note that we run a sound check onstage an hour before each performance to make sure that all equipment is working properly, so we recommend that musicians arrive by at least two hours before the scheduled start time. Also, if you or your bandmates need tickets for friends or family members, please let me know, and I will be happy to coordinate it. Tickets are no longer available, but we have a few seats reserved that I can offer you.

I look forward to meeting you!

Subject: RE: Summer concert performance

Date: July 17

Hi, James,

Thanks for the information. I will be driving with the group from Arlington, so we are all set for transportation. We plan to arrive at 5:30 p.m.

On a separate matter, I hope it is not too late to request a change in venue. I came to see the July 14 performance, and the group that performed then showed a video on the screen behind them as they played. My group also has images and videos that we would like to display during our performance. I've spoken with the stage manager, and he said that our scheduled space would not allow for such a setup. While these elements are not a necessary part of our show, our audiences have found them to be very powerful; thus, we would love to incorporate them if we can.

Thank you,

Rhianon

192. According to the Web page, what act has recently recorded music?

- (A) Killaloe Sounds
- (B) Lillian Cathey

194. According to the first e-mail, why should musicians arrive early?

- (A) To find parking
- (B) To sign a contract
- (C) To test sound equipment
- (D) To select a stage manager

195. What is indicated about Ms. Lewis?

- (A) She recorded a song with Lillian Cathey.
- (B) She has requested transportation to Cheverly Art Museum.

(C) The Tulla Stompers

(D) The Hennessy String Quartet

193. What is suggested about the Tulla Stompers concert?

(A) It has already sold out.

(B) It will begin two hours early.

(C) It will feature a local guest musician.

(D) It has been moved to a different date.

(C) She has never used video in her performance before.

The Farol Grande Hotel----Updates

We recently learned that we were reviewed in the March issue of Business Outlook Monthly magazine! The review was performed by an "undercover operation"-the reporter used a fictional name, posed as a regular guest, and stayed with us for five nights---so we didn't know who he was here until we saw the article! Access the magazine here to read the thorough analysis of our facilities: <http://www.bom.com/currentissues/march>.

Business Outlook Monthly

To the Editor:

I read with interest Gina Pimentel's take on the status of videoconferencing and other virtual meeting technologies. Although I sympathize with the author's sentiment that video and conference calls are no real alternative to meetings in person, it seems to be the trend of the future. But even with recent technological advances, in my experience, videoconferences are most effective for short meetings such as status checks. When it comes to negotiations, however, there is nothing like face-to-face interactions.
